

Just Because

Lizzy McAlpine

I know things that you don't know
I know why the flowers grow
Not because they're watered right
Not because they see the light
Just because I love you

I know things that you don't know
Why it rains and why it snows
Not because the heavens cry
Not because of a cloudy sky
Just because I love you

You can try to figure it out
But things like this are just unannounced
It might not make sense
'Cause I haven't told you yet
That I love you
That I love you

Oooh
Ooooh

I know things that you don't know
All my thoughts, I'll never show
Not because I'm unprepared
Not because I'm somewhat scared
Just because I love you
Just because I love you
