

Panic Room

Lizzy McAlpine

I gave up and fell asleep at 5pm
I was just thinking of you
I have been so far removed from my needs
I didn't know that I needed you

Told my sister, sent a picture of us to her phone
She said "it's so weird to see you with somebody"
Emma, what the fuck does that mean, I'm a bit offended
But I guess she's never seen me with somebody
That I like enough to show off to my family

I think that you are made for me
I think it's probably destiny
What are the odds we found each other?

I gave up trying to hold myself back from this
What's the point in doing that?
I have never felt the things I feel when you hold me
I'm so grateful for that

I think that you are made for me
I think it's probably destiny
What are the odds we found each other?

I know that I was made for you
Hold me and that's my panic room
What are the odds we found each other?
What are the odds we found each other?
