

What He Doesn't Know

Lloyd Cole

If I told you that I'd never really cared
And if I told you that I'd never cried
You'd know that I lied
You'd know I lied
And if I told you that I'd found somebody new
It wouldn't make it any easier
And what he doesn't know
Won't hurt at all

You know just as well as I
That he's a better man than I
And I know you know

Guess I never got around to telling you
I guess that if I told you now
Then I'd have nothing to lose
Well, I think of you
'Cause if I told you that I'd found another girl
It wouldn't make it any easier
And what he doesn't know
Won't hurt at all

You know just as well as I
That he's a better man than I
You know just as well as I
You know just as well as I
He's a better man than I
He's a better man than I could ever be
