

#88

Lo-Fang

Can't look away, oh

Give it up
If nothing matters
Give it up
If nothing matters
Give it up
It will get better
Turn and run
This time I'm certain
Turn and run
Nothing's working
Turn and run
I know it's hurting

Can't run away
Oh I won't turn back
I need to know
Will it ever change?
Will it ever grow?

The thing that I felt before
This paradise has disappeared
Now it's crystal clear
Wow it's crystal clear

Burn it up
Cause nothing matters
Burn it
When nothing matters
Break it up
The glass will shatter

Tear it down
If nothing matters
Tear it down
If nothing matters
Wear it down
If nothing matters

Will it ever change
Will it always feel the same
It always feels the same

Does it ever change
Or does it always feel the same
It always feels the same

Can't run away
Oh I won't turn back
I need to know
Will it ever change?
Will it ever grow?

And I know that the phantoms on the edge of my dreams
Are shapes I created but they still just disrupt my sleep
An idea growing quietly from something within

Spreads quicker than the cancer that destroyed your mother's skin
And it feels like a shadow at about 5am
When the streets are so empty and the fragile can't pretend
Can we all rush in
Get me back into the trees
If this dream wasn't happening
Would it still feel as real?
Will it ever change
Or will it always stay the same
It always stays the same

Does it ever change
Or does it always feel the same
It always feels the same