

Evidence

Lo Moon

As good as it was
How quickly I forget
No one ever notices
The evidence

What a fucking mess
We find ourselves in
If drowning was my first offense
Well here I go again

Now you're giving me up
I'm hanging on
Please forgive me I'm not
Not who I was

As foolish as I was
There's something I regret
Leaving you cold as ice in Connecticut
In the name of diligence
I found out where you went
Surrendered to the promise that
I won't be him again

Now you're giving me up
I'm hanging on
Please forgive me I'm not
Not who I was
Not who you loved

Now you're giving me up
Now you're giving me up

As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck
As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck

As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck
Now you're giving me up
As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck

As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck
As foolish as it was remember
I wish you way more than luck

I wish you way more than luck
I wish you way more than
I wish you way more than
I wish you way more than luck...
