

Expectations

Lo Moon

This is bigger
Then the two of us
Little triggers
I keep feeling in my gut

Kept my eyes closed
I was too afraid to see
Sometimes good friends
Are gonna take what they want and just leave

When I was sixteen
I had such big dreams
But I was born with let down
Expectations

Let it build up
Buried it deep inside
New York Highline
Was the last time that we felt alive

When I was sixteen
I had such big dreams
But I was born with let down
Expectations

It's getting kinda hard
It's getting kinda hard
Not to blame myself
Of wanting something else

When I was sixteen
I had such big dreams
But I was born with let down
Expectations

It's getting kinda hard not to blame myself
It's getting kinda hard not to blame myself
It's getting kinda hard not to blame myself
It's getting kinda hard not to blame myself