

For Me, It's You

Lo Moon

Just when I felt like giving up
That I shouldn't try
To save it now

Easier lost outside of us
That's not what I find
This time around

Every night outside my window I pretend to catch the moon
It reminds me that there's always something more for me to prove
I'm just waiting for the moment when you tell me that it's true
I'm just waiting on a moment for you

To tell me how you feel
Always known for me, it's you
So give me something real
Always known for me, it's you
It's you

Standing alone at 25
I barely recognize
My own blue eyes

I should've known, we'd make it right
I'm coming back this time
To a different life

Where the lights outside my window flicker brighter than the moon
Like a car chase in the valley, baby it's just me and you
Where we're living in the moment, when you tell me that it's true
Now I'm right here in this moment with you

So tell me how you feel
Always known for me, it's you
Just give me something real
Always known for me, it's you
It's you

So tell me how you feel
Always known for me, it's you
Just give me something real
Always known for me, it's you
It's you
