

Everything

Loathe

Two palms to hold, two feet to follow
A soul in need of love... A heart that's still too hollow
I've waited and waited just a lifetime for this
I hope it's true what they say. "Love changed everything"

Oh love, I'm giving up on you
Oh love, there's nothing I could do

Oh love, I'm giving up on you
Oh love, there's nothing I could do

Just like a deaf man cannot hear you, and a blind man cannot see - I've waited and waited for my whole life... Love just doesn't work on me
You could walk the world, and end up here. The earth was never flat
A broken clock still gets it right. I'm holding on to that

"Love changed everything"
"Love changed everything"

Oh, love, I'm giving up on you
Oh love, there's nothing I could do

Oh, love, I'm giving up on you
Oh love, there's nothing I could do

If I could leave my life behind, in a heartbeat's time, to try and find the poetry behind all of this

Everything
