I love you
All day, I'm only thinking about you
Like the stars that rise
You make me shine
Forever stay with me
I love you

Now just spacing out became something meaningful
Because the place I lay down or walk became wider
Because now I don't make decisions by myself
I'm only thinking about us
I hate saying good night but I still close my eyes
Because I'll be dreaming two dreams

I keep getting impatient, I can't stay still
When you hold my hand like it's nothing
It's only us and the calm music
So even if I don't try, I start to pull you in

We have a habit of putting our cheeks together
With words that only we know
With two soy lattes preciously in my hands
I'll go to you cause

I love you
All day, I'm only thinking about you
Like the stars that rise
You make me shine
Forever stay with me
I love you

I don't wanna stop, let's not decide
Where the start and end is
I'm not afraid, I don't think I've ever been this sure
Why do I keep getting serious?

My white heart becomes green
I can finally see the blue you from close
The sun rises and sets, I open my eyes and till I close them

I'll hold you and I'll tell you every day
Every day, I love you

I love you
All day, I'm only thinking about you
Like the stars that rise
You make me shine
Forever stay with me
I love you

Did I fall in love at first sight?
I don't remember but
The words of our love were dancing

Your night, your warmth
All of your moments that won't disappear
You make me smile like this
It means I love you
I need you

My white heart becomes green
I can finally see the blue you from close
The sun rises and sets, I open my eyes and till I close them
I'll hold you and I'll tell you every day

My white heart becomes green
I can finally see the blue you from close
The sun rises and sets, I open my eyes and till I close them
I'll hold you and I'll tell you every day
