

Kentucky Sky

Logan Halstead

Staring out through my window
Watching the snow flakes fall
A red bird sits on a fence post
Such beauty from a creature so small
There's moments in life that I regret
Like never holding you close
We'll stick together through December weather
I'm set on not letting go

Your blue eyes drift through my memory
Float in and out of my mind
Lend me your hand girl, won't you give me a dance
Underneath this Kentucky sky

Looking out at the sunset
With you by my side
My love won't fade like the sun drifts away
I want you forever this time

Your blue eyes drift through my memory
Float in and out of my mind
Lend me your hand girl, won't you give me a dance
Underneath this Kentucky sky
