

Wasting Our Time

Loggins & Messina

Stone quiet, you're lying here shying from me like some kind of stranger
And trying to smile is kind of killing me
I swear, dear, you don't even seem aware of the danger
And keeping my head is easier said than done
Oh-oh-oh

I try, but you just never listen to me
You're so damn impossible, oh
I guess there's just no sense in wasting our time

Well then, do I give in or begin trying to change it?
Loving you once had come so naturally
On and on, are you running or are you trying to decide, devil o r ranger?
And keeping it up was never this much on me
Oh-oh-oh

I try, but you just never listen to me
You're so damn impossible
You said, now there's no sense in wasting our time

You are my wife and I love you
And I ain't gonna change you for somebody else
You are the life and I love you
And I'll never, ever, love by myself

Wanna turn around and listen to me?
Don't be so impossible
[?] don't you be afraid of wasting our time, wasting our time, wasting our...
Oh-oh-oh

Wanna turn around and listen to me?
It's not so impossible
Whoa, I'm not afraid of wasting our time
