

Hi, it's nice to see you again
Goodbye, it's never my intent
I, I don't think I understand
Your plan, my hands are shaking
Thinking, how it all began

Now would you tell me how we got here, oh dear
Seems like we're looking at a fallout, I fear
We're in a movie I'd say, cliché
So maybe we both know that you got to go away

My heart breaks on display
(Baby, you're gonna take my heart one day)
It ends up the same way
(Doesn't really matter how many times with me)

My communication's a mess
I still try but don't know what to address
Despite everything said and done
Come crashing, I'd be lying if I said you were the one

Now would you tell me how we got here, oh dear
Seems like we're looking at a fallout, I fear
We're in a movie I'd say, cliché
So maybe we both know that you got to go away

My heart breaks on display
(I didn't think you were gonna take my heart one day)
It ends up the same way
(Doesn't really matter how many times of the day)

Tell me why we're living alone
I'm letting you know (C'mon now)
Eye to eye, give me a bone
Your cover's blown
Tell me why we let it alone
I'm letting you know (Oh, we're)
Eye to eye, give me a bone
Your cover's blown

You said you'd keep it
I found the flowers left on the ground
Am I ready? Am I really ready?
To face the truths that I've burned
You know I've run out of time (ti-i-i-ime)
I don't think I'm ready 'cause
My heart breaks on display (Oh, oh)
(I didn't think you were gonna take my heart one day)
(Please don't take my heart away)
It ends up the same way (Oh, oh)
(Doesn't really matter how many times of the day)
