

Time

Lola Blanc

Fresh off the heartbreak boat
You wanted to be free and live a little
And then you met me and I
Got caught in the middle

I said don't change for me
But I need someone who can settle
Into my bed at night, I
Don't want any trouble

He was not ready
To be my baby
With a heart so heavy
A voice unsteady
He said

I think I could have loved you
In another place and time
A different kind of moment
I would have called you mine
Nobody's fault, it's just that
The stars did not align
So baby don't forget me
It's all because of time

But time heals every wound
I met someone good and stable
That's when he came back around
Laid it all out on the table

He said
That he was ready
To be my baby
With a heart so heavy
A voice unsteady
I said

I think I could have loved you
In another place and time
A different kind of moment
I would have called you mine
Nobody's fault, it's just that
The stars did not align
So baby don't forget me
It's all because of time

Maybe one day we'll be
On the same page
At the same damn time

And maybe one day we'll be
In the same place
And I'll call you mine
But right now we're out of
Time

I think I could have loved you

In another place and time
The stars did not align
