

Kiss of Life

Londonbeat

Sacred as the sonnet of a poet's wine,
Sacred as the moment I embrace your love divine,
The moment divine.
Closer as I whisper in your waiting ear,
Closer as I kiss away the trace of all your tears,
The moment is here.

In a second I catch my breath comes the kiss of life,
And the gift that the angels bless is a kiss of life,
Kiss of life.

Blessed is the way the seeds of love are sown,
Blessed is the moment when the child of love is born,
Love, a miracle form.
Blessed is the baby in his mother's arms,
Blessed is the moment when I said the lines of joy,
The circle is drawn.

In a second I catch my breath comes the kiss of life,
And the gift that the angels bless is a kiss of life,
Kiss of life.

My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul
My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul.

And the miracle of life goes on,
And the rapture flows, and the passion goes on and on and on and on..
..yea...

In a second I catch my breath comes the kiss of life,
And the gift that the angels bless is a kiss of life,
Kiss of life.

My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul
My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul.
My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul
My eyes close in my soul like a kiss of life,
Love, love is gona give my soul.

In a second I catch my breath comes the kiss of life,
And the gift that the angels bless is a kiss of life,
Kiss of life.
