

Big Leg Woman

Lonnie Johnson

Yes, I've got me a big legged woman, that solid rocks my soul
Yes, I've got me a big legged woman, that solid rocks my soul
And every time she turns the lights down low
Jack, that's when I give up all my gold

She's so fine, she's so mellow, the rest I can't explain
Yes she's so fine, she's so mellow, rest I can't explain
Way my baby stacked up
It's enough to drive the average cat insane

Yes, she's got great big legs, so pleasin' on the eye
Yes, she's got those great big legs, so pleasin' on the eye
And the preacher walked by, turned around and looked Jack and hollered, "My, my, my"

She's got those big brown eyes, yes and she's somethin' really fine
Yes, she's got those big brown eyes, Jack she's somethin' really fine
And the best part about it
Jack she's mine, all mine