

So Where Are You

Loose Ends

Can you tell me what is flowing through your mind
All the places and the people you might find
Do you have to be such a mystery
Sometimes I wonder if you were made for me

So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love
So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love

Long ago I said I would not come back here
But once again I found I'm taken by your steer
In my mind I know that you can't work for me
But I just can't resist you
You know just what I mean

So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love
So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love

Why do you hide
Why do I hide
When love is calling for you
When love is calling for me
Why do you hide
When love is calling for you

So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love
So where are you
When I'm waiting here for your love

Why do you hide
When love is calling for you
Why do you hide
When love is calling for you
Why do I hide
When love is calling for you
When love is calling for me
Why do you hide
Where do I go
When love is calling for you
Shy away from love
I need you
Don't leave me waiting here for your love
I can't wait, wait, wait now
So where are you
Where am I
Where are you
Got to get away

I want you
I need you
I'm always thinking of you
