Lord Vicar

Can you feel the Earth approaching, Red horizon turn?
Time has frozen between two worlds,
Frozen, empty mind
One thing you have surely lost,
The one thing you still yearn
Frozen people always want to Leave this world behind
See the roof come falling down
Red horizon turning round
Broken people are earthbound
All of them will hit the ground
You were always first to go,
First to test your mind
People thought that you'd be strong
But you were first to burn
See the roof come falling down
Red horizon turning round
Broken people are earthbound
All of them will hit the ground
All of them will hit the ground
All of them supposed to heal
All of them without a sound
All of them are true and real
All of them, they will be found
All of them, they will be read
All of them below the ground
All of them will conquer death
