

Robots Alive!

Lordi

I am a Judas
My name's a noun today
Been running and hiding
From the people I betrayed

I see the celebration rage
From the shadows where I'm lurking
I'm right behind the statues feet
And I feel like it is almost stirring

The air is charged with evil kept at bay
But the people cannot be bothered
The giant starts to hum and slowly sway
And then the voice like thunder:

I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!

At last he is triumphant
Now the people run and hide in fear
As I get crushed by the iron foot
Of my master I hold dear

I look up at the skies above
I see dark clouds start to gather
They're blocking out the sun
But it doesn't really ma-ma-ma-matter

Overwhelming happiness and joy
As I leave this existence
Master's here reborn and he'll destroy
Every bit of resistance

I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!

I am alive, robots alive
I am alive, robots alive

I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
I am alive, robots alive!
