

Soliloquy

Lordi

Those fools, those idiot mortals
They do not know I am not slain!
Though my body did fall I live on Even now!

The statues that they worship so blindly
Are the very Celestial Serpents they have called on I have not foreseen this event but even now
My essence is contained in them

The Celestials have been sent from the future by The Goodness
I see it now
The foolish Goodness failed to realize the pitiful minds of the se humans
Consider time to be linear
They don't understand that their weapon is here
And I am in them!
I will become them and through them claim my ultimate victory
