Something Wicked This Way Comes

I sense it, I feel it It's aching in my bones I taste it in the air Hear it in the undertones

The birds left, no crickets The silence sings of death The river set on pause The storm holding it's breath

Something wicked this way comes Something wicked this way comes No fights now, it's a terrorize response Something wicked this way comes

The windows all boarded The deadbolts are all shot You know you're pathetic 'Cause this thing can't be stopped

While outside the sun shines Your something's in your head You're waiting, and waiting Until you starve to death

Something wicked this way comes Something wicked this way comes No fights now, it's a terrorize response Something wicked this way comes

Something wicked this way comes Something wicked this way comes No fights now, it's a terrorize response Something wicked this way comes Lordi