

The Night the Monsters Died

Lordi

First beams of morning sun intrude across the room
Illuminating carnage that spelled out their doom

It's all final
They got what they deserve
End of rivals
Justice is served

It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
Don't have to be afraid
Cause we're already dead
It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
Now we'll say goodbye
For the final time

First light on Vampire skin it's boiling in the sun
She-Wolf in a pool of blood, dead eyes and lolling tongue

Mother cadaver, son covered in her gore
Entrails outside, spread out on the floor

It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
Don't have to be afraid
Cause we're already dead
It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
Now we'll say goodbye
For the final time

Undead blood is kicking in
It wakes up the dead
Witch's eyes are opening
In her half eaten head

Re-animate.
Vampire awakes
Removes the stake.
Were-wolf revived
Opens her eyes.
Poor Billy's stunned
Nowhere to run.

It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
Don't have to be afraid
Cause we're already dead
It's the morning after the night
The night the monsters died
We'll never say goodbye
For the final time
