

Daydreams About Night Things

Loretta Lynn

I'm having daydreams about night things in the middle of the afternoon

While my hands make a living my mind's home loving you

I'm having daydreams about night things in the middle of the afternoon

And every night you make my dreams come true

All day long while I'm working in town time slows down to a crawl

When I'm not thinking about you I'm checking the clock on the wall

Then it's goodbye factory and hello love and there's a smile across my face

Cause I'm back in the arms of your sweet love where my thoughts have been all day

I'm having daydreams

I'm having daydreams
