

Next Time

Loretta Lynn

I guess you'd say I've got a funny way of showin'
The love in me is a never ending thing
I never dreamed I could ever be unfaithful
And I hope you'll never know how close I came

I found old familiar feeling in the arms of a stranger
I came so close to the fire I could almost feel the flame
Once a woman gets so lonely she leans across the line
Heaven knows how far should go the next time

A woman understands a man's desire
And overlooks the time he slips around
But let a woman ever give it to temptation
And the man cold never let her live it down

I found old familiar feeling in the arms of a stranger
It was almost like loving and wanting me again
Let a woman who gets so lonely she leans across the line
Heaven knows how far should go the next time
