

The Lady That Lived Here Before

Loretta Lynn

It's over between us, yes I know it's true
I can never be anything that you want me to
And no matter how you beg, I'll walk out that door
'Cause I can't live up to the lady that lived here before

It seems that I have been wasting my time
As long as she's with us, you'll never be mine
And I know that you love her and it hurts so much more
'Cause I can't live up to the lady that lived here before

She's lying between us in our bed each night
And I wonder if you think of her when you hold me tight
The going's gettin' rougher, I can't take it anymore
And I can't live up to the lady that lived here before

She's lying between us in our bed each night
And I wonder if you think of her when you hold me tight
The going's gettin' rougher, I can't take it anymore
And I can't live up to the lady that lived here before
