

True Love Needs to Keep in Touch

Loretta Lynn

I'll call you from airport in Fort Worth, Oklahoma
I'll send a homesick postcard from Denver, Alabama
Then you can come and meet me in Detroit, California
True love needs to keep in touch

Just because you've been with her don't mean you've been cheati n'
You may have told a lie, but you would never stretch the truth
Just because I packed my clothes and told you I was leavin'
Don't think that I won't keep in touch with you

I'll call you from the airport in Pittsburgh, North Dakota
I'll send a homesick postcard from Salt Lake City, Georgia
Then you can come and meet me in Philly, Minnesota
True love needs to keep in touch

I hope you never get to thinking that I'm ungrateful
I hope that you don't think I've overlooked a precious word
No one but a jealous fool could picture you unfaithful
I wouldn't want to lose you for the world

I'll call you from the airport in Boston, West Virginia
I'll send a homesick postcard from Cleveland, Arizona
Then you can come and meet me in Portland, Colorado
True love needs to keep in touch

I'll call you from airport in Fort Worth, Oklahoma
I'll send a homesick postcard from Denver, Alabama
Then you can come and meet me in Detroit, California
True love needs to keep in touch

I'll call you from airport in Fort Worth, Oklahoma
I'll send a homesick postcard from Denver, Alabama
Then you can come and meet me
