

Slow

Lorrie Morgan

I reached out this morning
To hold your hands
Oh stupid me forgot somehow that you are gone
Sometimes I think that I am loosing it
I don't understand how you walked away
Without a word and I'm still holding on
Oh the truth ain't easy
I don't want to believe it

Baby I'm a long way from crazy
But baby I'm a long way from over you
I haven't been myself lately
I'm not going to let you break me
I though it is going to take a little time to heal
Not like you who turn it up like a song
Change the dial on the radio

I'm letting you go
Slow
I'm taking down your memories
One frame at a time
Yea this was us
Before I'm lonely
It hurts to see them in a box

It's just my state of mind
I can't help them just like
I can't make you want me
It's hard I guess
When you can't forget

Baby I'm a long way from crazy
But baby I'm a long way from over you
I haven't been myself lately
I'm not going to let you break me
I though it is going to take a little time to heal
Not like you who turn it up like a song
Change the dial on the radio

I'm letting you go
Baby let
Can't save me
This one break me
I though it is going to take a little time to heal
Not like you who turn it up like a song
Change the dial on the radio
I'm letting you go
Slow
I'm letting you go
Slow
