

Materialistic

Los Retros

Chill out man...

Everything you like is material
It comes and goes, just like cereal... Add the toast so boast w hile I roast
You run coast to coast nappin kids like you the most But I'm still a kid... The only difference is Kids today will never understand what timeless music is Your beat is hard but rhymes sound like practice and ratchet ad libs
The fact is, this wack kid fools a fool to like his tracklist
You mad kid cause Retro's rappin?
How your passive rap shit can kiss my ass lips
You watch disrespected girls shaking their asses
The residue of the deuce dude will leave your face in mad shit
So quit clapping and stop acting...
Prove ya value by throwing hands and see who's fast kid
You don't speak with reason but your anger grows rapid Your emotions are like the captain... It makes decisions in ya brain but your boat is sinking
It sinks fast kid

Ya skinny legs quake like chihuahuas barking at the gate
Tempted to take a bite but only barks away
Is there any single track that doesn't sound the same?
Your talent lacks truth and real effort to innovate
So feel the tension while the world waits
I give you shakes, I got you nervous like a first date
This verse aches from the weight of my wordplay
So when I drop my verse raw
I cause earthquakes
I'm just trynna make a living... Make a simple life for me
I don't care for wealth cause luxury wouldn't die for me
Material is cool cause lifes cool eating cereal
As simple as it sounds some kids don't weigh more than a pound
I found out clout won't save you when you're hungry
So give up being prideful and just enjoy your honey Winnie the poo made his own life hard cause of obsession over f ood dude...
So don't pull the same card

He's buying too much shit
You can't do that
That's impossible
That's unacceptable
You can't just keep buying shit on...
