

Like a murder with no alibi
I'm guilty but I don't know why
When I feel no stress I'm left with voices in my mind

Like a human being suffering
Like a needle penetrating skin
Believe me when I say there's something wrong in my design

I have no sense of happiness
A balanced life makes me depressed
I'll create a problem just so I can cry about it

Can't you see
I don't need therapy
Just call the paramedics, tell 'em that I said it feels like
Yeah it feels like
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
Like I'm the only one out here alive
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
I can't stay, told you I'm not okay
I can't stay, told you I'm not okay

You talk and I don't hear a thing
'Cause I'm never listening
I've got bigger issues or at least that's what I think

I don't need a goddamn friend
Just put a bullet through my fucking head
I should be locked up but I don't need more drugs
I'm already insane

Can't you see
I don't need therapy
Just call the paramedics, tell 'em that I said it feels like
Yeah it feels like
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
Like I'm the only one out here alive
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
I can't stay, told you I'm not okay
I'm carrying the weight of the world
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders

I don't need no therapy
I just need a place to be
I don't need no therapy
I just need a place to be
I don't need no therapy
Oh wait, maybe I do

Just call the paramedics, tell 'em that I said it feels like
Yeah it feels like
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
Like I'm the only one out here alive
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders
I can't stay, told you I'm not okay
I'm carrying the weight of the world
I'm carrying the weight of the world on my shoulders

I can't stay, told you I'm not okay
