I'm Thinking...

Lou Barlow

i'm thinking of the things that i avoid asking questions of tomorrow betting on the tears that all must fall tears of happiness and sorrow the older i get i get older i hope i know i'm getting stronger can only be what it will be some days are short others longer

if you want good love don't force it to react hand behind your back i'm thinking of the pain i can't recall the weight i carry not the world at all i'm still amazed we're here today i'm down the open mouth of wonder

start by stepping back let your heart react, back home
