

She Sold Me Magic

Lou Christie

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
I think it's burning for the love life

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
But I keep follow something out of sight

She sold me magic, she sold me magic
And all of the little things I needed every day
She sold me magic, she sold me magic
And all of the little things I needed every day

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
I think it's burning for the love life (Maybe, maybe, maybe I love you)

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
But I keep follow something out of sight

She sold me magic, she sold me magic
And all of the little things I needed every day
She sold me magic, she sold me magic
And all of the little things I needed every day

She said I'm in my better life time
She said my stars are matching her sign
She turns my ego on, have thought she's much too strong
And ring the bell that thought she must be on the edge of love
Ring the bell that thought she must be on the edge of love

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
I think it's burning for the love life (Maybe, maybe,
maybe I love you)

Maybe

So it's maybe, maybe, maybe I love you
But I keep follow something out of sight

Nananananana nanananana (She sold me magic, she sold me magic, ahaha)
Nananananana nanananana (She sold me magic, she sold me
magic, ahaha)
Oho, nananana...

(She sold me magic, she sold me magic, ahaha)
Oho, nanana
