

Left Behind

Lou Doillon

[Verse 1]

Here, struck between this heaven blue
This emerald green
Life takes on so easy
And here our eyes shine bright
And smiles are free
And this golden light
It fits like a crown

[Chorus]

And one could almost forget
That's somewhere over there
There's a gray city light
The gray city lights
We've left behind

[Verse 2]

There, in this withered town
Struck between
This ceiling and the ground

Days bleed so listlessly
And all faces down
One by one we drag
Our heavy loads around

[Chorus]

And one could almost forget
That's somewhere over there
There's the heaven blue skies
The ruby red sunrise
And one could almost forget
That's somewhere over there
There's a grey city light
The grey city lights
There's a grey city light
The grey city lights
