You don't actually care Love for you is no beginning You're not really there Hallucination

I thought you were listening Hallucination
I thought you were listening Hallucination

I understand you think you're above it The adolescent sense of the sky The feeling of billowing heartbeats The fingertips run through your hair

They run through your hair Hallucination
Hallucination

Oh you think you're so special
That there's no law meant for you
You come and go like the goddess you are
We're mere mortals below
Fingertips run through your hair
We are mere mortals below

Are meant to be peons
Are meant to be servants
Are meant to be dismissible objects
One fucks with
One fucks with

Poor pitiful creature

The winner in heartbreak
The winner in caring
The winner in every miniscule method of wearing
Your heart on your sleeve
A red star of idiocy

An idiot's idiocy
My, my caring for you
Caring for you
Do you think we're a book
Some kind of a table
You can rest your feet on when you're able
Red star of idiocy
An idiot's idiocy
My caring for you
Poor pitiful creature

To notice the pining
The self deprivation
The self flagellation of you
Dear worshippers

We do like you regal

We do like you haughty
We do love to look upon your perfect body

The hair on your shoulders
The smell of your armpit
The taste of your vulva and everything on it
We all really love you
And you have no meaning
You don't even see us
You were never caring

You go do what you do
You do it for you
No one exists with you
You're way above caring
Leave a trail upon the wake
That no one ever tries to take
Because waiting for you
Thinking of you
Is another way of dying
Is another way of dying

I'm clawing your chest
'Til your collarbone bleeds
Piercing your nipples 'til I bite them off
I scratch your face and bite your shoulders
Way above caring
And your Kotex jukebox
Your Kotex jukebox

I'm doomed, I'm swearing
Waiting for you
In your high heels and nightie
Your leather dress squeaking
Latex now sweating, waiting for you
In your tincture
Your opium white bathrobe
Your white tiles run red now
Are we both dead now?

The liquid exchange of our heart The liquid exchange of our heart Are we both dead now?

You're way above caring
A red star of idiocy
My caring
My caring for you
My caring for you
You're way beyond caring
A red star of idiocy

My caring for you
Oblivious to caring
Oblivious to caring
Oblivious to caring

Because waiting for you Because thinking of you Is another way of dying

You're way above caring Oblivious to caring Oblivious to caring You poor pitiful creature The mistake of feeling The one who rejects you is the winner, It's true The winner in heartbreak The winner in caring The winner in every miniscule method of wearing Your heart on your sleeve A red star of idiocy An idiot's idiocy Your heart on your fuckin' sleeve My caring for you We were meant to be peons We're meant to be peons Mere mortals below Meant to be servants

Meant to be dismissible objects one fucks with Oh, oh, oh you're so special
No law meant for you
You come and go like the goddess you are

The fingertips run through your hair A billowing heart beats
Feeling
Feeling
What a glorious feeling
To be so rejected
So rejected

An idiot's idiocy
My caring for you
You think I'm a book or a table
You can rest your fuckin' feet on
When you're able

The taste of your vulva, everything on it
We do love you, to look upon your perfect body
We love you regal
We love you haughty
Oblivious to caring
Caring

Oh my dear Oh my dear Oh my dear Oblivious to caring

Are we really dead now? Are we both dead now?
