

Mistakes

Loud Luxury

I remember those words you told me
In the back, looking like you know me
Saying things I can't believe, no
'Cause y'all don't love, baby
You and me, we were cool for the summer
Had one with you, one another
Talking 'bout how you like me now
It's just another mistake

Yes, seems like ten of me
All this small talk on the dinner scene
Pouring red wine, then honestly
Don't fall for none of your love
All the logos and the white lies
All the reasons you can't take my time
Full of pieces of the bright side
Counting all your mistakes

I remember those words you told me
In the back, looking like you know me
Saying things I can't believe, no
'Cause y'all don't love, baby
You and me, we were cool for the summer
Had one with you, one another
Talking 'bout how you like me now
It's just another mistake

Yeah, I know you got friends in places
And they all got many faces
I don't need that

Man, it's all cap, egotistical
Baby, I should have known you better
Don't believe we should be together
Memory don't change
Said it's too late
Yeah, that's your mistake

I remember those words you told me
In the back, looking like you know me
Saying things I can't believe, no
'Cause y'all don't love, baby
You and me, we were cool for the summer
Had one with you, one another
Talking 'bout how you like me now
It's just another mistake
