

Stand or Fall

Loudness

Fallacy shows but nobody knows, no matter where you are
Into the hurricane eye, no place to hide or run away

Shadows will fall they cover us all, into the down and under
Land of the dark leaving a mark, keep fighting for tomorrow

Sailing the seven oceans riding into the night
Holding the sword of fate, we're not alone

Thunder rising hear the roar, bring 'em down to the floor
Freedom calling crash the wall, stand or fall
Lightning striking see the spark, burning bright in the dark
Freedom calling crash the wall, stand or fall

Under the blazing sunlight, under the shining moon
Holding the sword of fate, we're not alone
