

The Voice

Loudness

I hear a voice that keeps calling me... desperately
Echo in the silence of the midnight sea...
helplessly
These tears in my eyes
They flow on endlessly
Still binding my heart
From my innocence

I keep asking myself for the answer
Another day after day
Still waiting to feel the emotion now

Picking up the pieces of my broken heart...
I fall apart
Walking alone this road I carry on... on and on Something in the night
It just keeps telling me
To stand up once again to find destiny...
Waiting for me

I keep asking myself for the answer
Another night after night
Still waiting to feel the sensation now

Then I realize...
When I see the stars shining in the sky
It's the reality...
It's the call to your heart
When you hear the voice... yeah!

Hear the prophecy

Then I realize...
When I see the stars shining in the sky
It's the reality...
It's the call to your heart
When you hear the voice... yeah!

Yes, I realize...
When I see the stars shining in the sky
It's the reality...
It's the call to your heart
When you hear the voice... yeah!
