

Don't Let A Memory

Louis Prima

Don't let a memory break your heart
Because your love went wrong, don't fall apart
What's to be will be and was intended
Don't go around with your chin on the ground, just because your romance ended

Tears that you shed are all in vain
Remember sunshine always follows rain
So why not try to make a brand new start?
And don't let a memory break your heart

Don't let a memory break your heart
Because your love went wrong, don't fall apart
Don't go around with your chin on the ground, just because your
romance ended

Tears that you shed are all in vain
Remember sunshine always follows rain
So why not try to make a brand new start?
And don't let a memory break your heart
Ooh, don't let a memory break your heart
No, don't let a memory break your heart
