

End Of The Day

Love & The Outcome

Can I get through
All this bad news
Cause like right now
There's nothing I can do about it
A mess I just obsess
Up in my head
Sometimes it's like the sky is falling

There's always something to be stressin' about
It's gonna work itself out

At the end of the day
The sun still sets in the colors of a thousand promises
The beauty of it all I won't forget
Nothing's gonna change a word You've said
Hey if the stars still shine
Then maybe everything's gonna be alright
Even in the dark there's just enough light to say
We're all gonna be ok
We're all gonna be ok

No more up down
I'm on good ground
Now that I've found
Troubles they never last forever

There's always something to be stressing about
It's gonna work itself out

At the end of the day
The sun still sets in the colors of a thousand promises
The beauty of it all I won't forget
Nothing's gonna change a word You've said
Hey if the stars still shine
Then maybe everything's gonna be alright
Even in the dark there's just enough light to say
We're all gonna be ok

At the end of the day though
There's always a rainbow
So go ahead and dance in the rain
Dance in the rain
At the end of the day though
There's always a rainbow
So go ahead and dance in the rain
Dance in the rain

At the end of the day
The sun still sets in the colors of a thousand promises
The beauty of it all I won't forget
Nothing's gonna change a word You've said
Hey if the stars still shine
We're all gonna be ok

We're gonna be ok

We're gonna be ok
We're all gonna be ok
We're all gonna be ok

We're gonna be ok
We're gonna be ok
We're all gonna be ok
