

Casino Clouds

Lovedrug

You left Tuesday and by Wednesday you were so alone
Is this your nightmare man?
The millions of punch drunks and the cannibal king is taking control
Now you're burning in space, you try to remember her face
And the crown of your heart
Now you're fighting for the manacle girls and boys
Like a kettle of keys
One of which might unlock all of these
If these are the black gates of hell, oh
Then I'm sorry for the life I've wasted so
And I forgot to fall in love, I forgot to call on the keystone clan
I never got to be a man at all
Your crocodile tears
Your manikin angel cage of fire is killing him so
Now, you're searching for life up in these cold casino clouds
With your panicking eyes I am not alone
Now, these are the angry jaws of death, oh
Now, this is the calm while Father Grim is smiling so
I never got to fully say, I never got to really explain myself
And I forgot to sing
I got us here, I saw the sign
Now breathe in the air and you'll be fine
Now, I'll never fall in love
Now, I'll never really explain myself
But honey I will sing
