

Price I Pay

Lovehammers

What have I done to deserve this
Empty promises you made
You needed time, so I stayed patient
And threw it right back in my face

But it's alright, and I get by
Just fine without you
There was a time, where we could shine
When you were right here by my side
No turning back, our time has passed
Nothing left to say
Trusting you's the price I had to pay

Different version, same old story
I covered it up, cause you were down
Go find another shoulder to cry on
You're someone else's problem now

But it's alright, and I get by
Just fine without you
There was a time, where we could shine
When you were right here by my side
No turning back, our time has passed
Trusting you's the price I had to pay

It's too late now, can't change your mind
Your damage done, can't rewind time
You turned your back, now I turn mine
Watch me turn mine

But it's alright, and I get by
Just fine without you
There was a time, where we could shine
When you were right here by my side
No turning back, our time has passed
Trusting you's the price I had to pay
Trusting you's the price I had to
Trusting you's the price I had to
Trusting you's the price I had to pay
