

Throw My Head

Lovehammers

You change your life or you'll die for sure
You keep on diggin' yourself deeper down to the core
I never met anyone-anything - found such pleasure in pain
Put all the pieces together and explode again

Why can't you leave yourself alone
Afraid you might lose control

Throw my head around - no one can ever bring us down
Throw my head around - pound this place into the ground
And I know what I need and I know what I want
You're standin' right here I know who you are
Hello Superstar - you're my friend

I believe your morals flow down deeper than you know
Flow down deeper gravity takes control
Take you down slightly lower than white dirt in your brain
Put all the pieces together and blow it up again

Why can't you leave yourself alone
Afraid you might lose control

Throw my head around - no one can ever bring us down
Throw my head around - pound this place into the ground
And I know what I need and I know what I want
You're standin' right here I know who you are
Hello Superstar - you're my friend

Why can't you leave yourself alone
Afraid you might lose control
When I see you want to chase you away
When I see you want to chase you away
Try and regain focus mind is blown
Try and regain focus mind is blown blown blown

Throw my head around - no one can ever bring us down
Throw my head around - pound this place into the ground
And I know what I need and I know what I want
You're standin' right here I know who you are
Hello Superstar

Yea we can't slow down -
And we don't know how
