

Consequences

Lovejoy

(One, two, three, four)

Was it too late to call you?
Was I too drunk to know?
Do you ever feel like you fell off for about a year?
I'd like to have another go

'Cause I haven't slept in about a week
I stay up thinking I will die
This time I'm blaming it on smoking
Tried it once, it wrecked my life
Or maybe it's your laugh
That keeps me up at night
I wish I tried more, wish I tried more
Wish I tried

Oh, what's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions

"What time's the train start?"
She asks me as I drawl
You're just so painfully punctual
I'm starting to get bored
I decorate my mind
The same beige as the walls
I'm yours, I'm yours, I'm yours

Drink, I've had too much to think
Just tell me baby, is this seat taken now?
What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions

What's this?
What's this?
What's this?
What's this?

What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions, now
What's this?
The consequences of my actions
