

Frozen Floods

Lovers

oh ramona, oh you know oh you know what i've done. i sewed a map into your coat of all my lonesome, broken, frozen floods. and i'd never seen, i'd never seen your eyes so shut. i've never been good with emotions, so i sealed them off into these frozen floods. but i can't skate away on them. i slide and slip up on the surface. while underneath is frozen, swollen mud. and all the things i'm still afraid of. i'd let it all, i'd let it all go numb but i'll be up all night until i know you're all right. you set this town on fire, you set it alight.
oh i'll be up all night until i know you're all right, ou set this town on fire, you melted the ice.
