

I laid by the phone
There's no answer at all
No reactions to bullshit replies
The words you'd said
And the colors you'd sent
Well they got lost somewhere on the ride

I can breathe, but I forget sometimes
I'm alive, but I'm paralyzed

Oh now what am I to do?
What am I gonna do?

Now my faith is dead
While my body lays drenched
In the ashes of a forgotten time
It's hard when you come
To realize someone's path is headed elsewhere in life

So baby walk your way and I'll walk mine
But I'll stop to think of you from time to time

Well now what am I to do?
What am I gonna do?

So baby walk your way and I'll walk mine
I know now my promises slept with your lies

I don't need you
I don't need you
Oh I need you
