

Could Be Worse

Lower Than Atlantis

Alarm didn't go off
And the water ain't hot
Got a tea stain on my shirt
Parking ticket, traffic jam
In a red light stop
And now you're ready for work

Sometimes in life it's like you might as well give up
And there's no point in going on because the going got tough
But keep your chin up.

'Cause it could be way worse
When your day ain't going great just remember, these words
Yeah it cause it could be way worse
When nothings going your way just remember these words

It could be way worse
Could be way worse
It could be way worse

Pissing down with the rain outside
You've forgotten your coat
No rainbow, no pot of gold

Sometimes in life it's like you might as well give up
And there's no point in going on because the going got tough.
But keep your chin up.

'Cause it could be way worse
When your day ain't going great just remember, these words
Yeah it cause it could be way worse
When nothings going your way just remember these words
It could be way worse.

Whatever goes wrong
You could be worse off
Thank God you're not

'Cause it could be way worse
When your day ain't going great just remember, these words
Yeah it cause it could be way worse
When nothings going your way just remember these words

It could be way worse
Could be way worse
It could be way worse
