

Loose Ends

Loyle Carner

Enough when the going is tough
I'll wait till it falls on deaf ears
heresay without the boundaries of love
My take is I wish there was a better way

I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send
I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send

Yo, I been listenin' to Dreamy Days
I'm in disarray
I realize it's everybody else who's still astray
I feel ashamed, I know there ain't no savin' away
They went astray, I went Australia, so what am I supposed to say to 'em?
When all this love's out of range everything around me changed
I'm supposed to stay the same
Turn down these free drinks I couldn't even name
And I like all this money, 'cause I'm fuckin' up my brain
I've been goin' insane
Shelf full of family remains
Broken heart is seekin', none of them had came
I, I pull the glass, stick my head out in the rain
Try and find another person I can blame
Sat upon this plane
And yo, I'm prayin' that we don't crash
'Cause every night I shiver at the sight when we go back
'Cause every night could be my last and yeah, I know that
So I crack a smile 'fore it goes black
Trust

Enough when the going is tough
I'll wait till it falls on deafened ears
He'll say without the palm trees so low
My take is I wish there was a better way

I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send
I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send

Trust
I wish you'd been here when my dad had died
I wish you'd been here when my mother cried
I wish you'd been here in the drag of night
To see my side, look me in my eyes when I was paralyzed
And tell me everything's alright and push it to the side
It's just a sacrifice, at times I told a bag of lies
But not a pack of lies, we always told a couple ones

Of course it was true, you only knew me from the dramatize
I feel an agonizing risk 'cause in a thousand islands this
Is where I really wanna be when we were cracking wise
'Cause it was black and white, literally black and white
White from my mother when my father was the blackest skies
Skies, I, I can see it's true
I, I see my mother up in you
Shit, I think my dad would see it too
Yo, I just wish he knew

Enough when the going is tough
I'll wait till it falls on deafened ears
He'll say without the palm trees so low
My take is I wish there was a better way

I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send
I got a lotta love, a lotta loose ends
A lot of people that I wish I knew then
Friends beckon every second you spend
I'm wettin' the pen every letter you send

Imagine all the friends you see most
Each one you're peggin' away
Dependin' on you puttin' pen to the page
And so you break it down, checkin' they're paid
Another day your heart breakin', you resented the stage
You feel that same rage
Watch the crowd, watch the stage, thinkin'
Shit, rather in the crowd with your mates drinkin'
Misbehaviors, catch another dame winkin'
You feel ashamed, guzzle Jagers, your brain's sinkin'
You think it's deep down, think it's depression
A mis-spent adolescence, but all this time
All this time, time's of the essence
You would never learn from your lessons
You're stuck in that same quintessence
Heartbreak, one in the same
Days change but you're stuck in the game
It's like, she's tellin' you you're young enough to be at uni
Somehow the one who sees through me
