

Back to the Night

Lucero

Back to the night
The kind what dawn never breaks
Was all that you had
All that they took away
Back to the night
The kind what dawn never breaks
Lost in the dark
There you said we'd fade away
Back to the night
The kind what dawn never breaks
Daylight only [?] dreadful things that drive away

Like the dying light you were doomed into it
You cursed your broken world you never could mend
And they left us here so we take the fall
Her eyes held the sadness of all that ever was
All the fire and the ashes
All the misery and blood
You were bluster
You were cold of heart
She was honesty and grace

(Back to the night
The kind what dawn never breaks
Was all that you had
All that they took away)

I've been watching the road
I've been traveling by night
All the broken bones
The taste of blood
I don't see any savior here
Let me set this burden down
Just you and me
Call off your hounds
One last brawl
Let's see how long this takes
