

Reset

Lucie Silvas

Dust has fallen and
Glass is broken and
Finally the coast is clear

We're both standing there
Breathing in the salty air
Trouble that brought us here

And who know's where we're going
The wind's gonna start blowing
This looks like the end
But if you say you still want me
The hurt is a has been
Or at least pretend
Oh oh oh oh we could just reset

Sweet forgiveness and anger powerless
There's nothing but you and me
I say you don't care about
Anything but right now
Give us something to believe

And who know's where we're going
The wind's gonna start blowing
This looks like the end
But if you say you still want me
The hurt is a has been
Or at least pretend
Oh oh oh oh we could just reset

And who know's where we're going
The wind's gonna start blowing
This looks like the end
But if you say you still want me
The hurt is a has been
Or at least pretend

And who know's where we're going
The wind is gonna start blowing
This looks like the end
But if you say you still want me
The hurt is a has been
Or at least pretend
Oh oh oh oh we could just

We could just ...
