

Your Friends Are Whispering

Lucky Boys Confusion

I've seen too much to ever leave this town
I've seen too much to find new ground
You found love and it kept you around
You found love, it kept you down

The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering

The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering
And they tell me it's gonna kill me
The walls are whispering

I've seen too much, I want to burn it too the ground
You stayed home to guard your crown
I spent years trying to wrap my head around
Secrets kept will keep you down

The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering
And they tell me it's gonna kill me
The walls are whispering

Even though we're worlds apart
We will always share a point of view
Even though we're worlds apart
This isn't you, this is the proof
Even though we're worlds apart
We will always share a point of view
Even though we're worlds apart
This isn't you

I drink too much to never leave this town
Secrets kept kept you down

The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering
The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering

The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering
And they tell me it's gonna kill me
The walls are whispering
Your friends are whispering
And they tell me it's gonna kill me
The walls are whispering
