

Ask Somebody

Lucy Angel

Boy, before you get your game on That move, that groove, that drink on just (please) go easy on the struttin' and you can keep that button buttoned it's time t o take a breath
And rethink those cheesey lines
Girls don't dig that stuff (shit)
And if ya don't know why?

You better ask somebody before this chance is blown do a little bit of research resharpin' your approach
If ya wanna make it happen
Find someone who knows... ya know? you better ask somebody

Don't start braggin' bout your paycheck
Or that brand new jet-black corvette
I don't get impressed with who you're friends with or some gymcard, low card, fitness
Honey don't get in a hurry
If you wanna you to get it right
Ya might wanna call your mama
Or how bout you callin' mine...

Well I want her so here's what I done,
See I got smart went and asked someone
I went home to mama, asked her some questions found out the tru th and learned me a lesson
No need to brag, no need to front
Shut up and listen, find what she wants
Give her your attention, listen to her dreams
Love her like crazy show her what she means
Ain't nothin' better than lovin' a good girl
Find the right one it'll change your world
Now that you know what you need to does
You better ask somebody if you're looking for love
