

Come Out

Lucy Dacus

[Verse 1]

I missed your call because I was in a board room
Full of old men guessin' what the kids are getting into
There was a cardboard cutout of a cowboy in the corner
Pointin' his gun in my face
I don't belong here, nobody does
Except maybe those old men collecting dust
Why am I not wherever you are?
There is no distance that wouldn't be too far
Even on opposite sides of the room
I am orbiting you

[Chorus]

So come out, come out, wherever you are
I miss you, I miss you, I miss you in my arms

[Verse 2]

I wanna be the man on Main Street with a megaphone
Screaming obscenities to the toddlers and the scandalized moms
I wanna scream from the bottom of my lungs
I wanna scream my throat raw
And if that means I never sing again
At least I'll know I went out with a bang
Screaming my favorite things about you
Screaming your name, your name, your name

[Chorus]

So come out, come out, wherever you are
I miss you, I miss you, I miss you in my arms
Come out, come out, there's no need to hide
I want you, I want you, I want you by my side

[Verse 3]

Waking up in a new city every day
Makes me believe more and more that they're all the same
It's just a pharmacy, coffee shop, bookstore, and bank
And a tourist attraction that most locals hate
I hike up a hill where they say there's a view
'Cause the sky around five might remind me of you
There's a couple divorcees on a bad first date
And an elderly couple with nothing to say
I used to think that'd be the worst
To grow old and run out of words
Now I have seen some incredible things
I could never describe if I tried

[Chorus]

So come out, come out, wherever you are
I miss you, I miss you, I miss you in my arms
Come out, come out, there's no need to hide
I want you, I want you, I want you by my side

[Outro]

C'mon, c'mon, I'm ready for you
I can't wait, I can wait
But I don't want to
